

Your Online Resources

At Slapton Ley Field Centre we can provide tailor made electronic resources that are linked specifically to your field course to support your learning back at school. Our on-line archiving system enables you to access all the field work data you collected during your field course. At the end of the field course your teacher receives an e-mail containing a link to a web page containing all the documents and images you created while on your field course. This will give you access to electronic versions of your data and photos to support your learning back at school.
