What’s In It For You: An opportunity to help the Field Studies Council, an environmental education charity, and to support the local and tourist communities. The chance to develop your own knowledge of the Dale Fort area by interacting with members of the public and colleagues alike. Another benefit of volunteering is all the tea, cake and lunches you can eat, provided by the fantastic kitchen team.

Why We Want You: • Provide data and information for educational use at the centre • Provide a basic set of information collected on a yearly basis as a legacy for future generations • Inform national data sets that are used to help conserve species across the UK

So we need your help!

Notes: Assistance and training will be given where necessary.

The Field Studies Council

The Field Studies Council is an independent environmental education charity committed to helping people, discover, explore, understand and be inspired by the natural world. Its network of centres provides day and residential courses for all ages from young children to retired adults from schools and communities throughout the UK. It also reaches many others through its publications and community-based programmes.
