The Field Studies Council

The Field Studies Council is an independent environmental education charity committed to helping people, discover, explore, understand and be inspired by the natural world. Its network of centres provides day and residential courses for all ages from young children to retired adults from schools and communities throughout the UK. It also reaches many others through its publications and community-based programmes.

FSC Rhyd-y-creuau

	Set in the mountainous region of North Wales, Rhyd-y-creuau offers an exciting opportunity for volunteers to live and work within Snowdonia National Park. The centre is situated in the town of Betws-y-coed. This small town is a busy hub for the Snowdonia National Park, with plenty of outdoor shops and adventurous activities. Not far away are the beautiful mountains themselves.
	Here much of the education revolves around the mountains and surrounding environments, our groups are predominantly GCSE and A Level Geographers but we also cater for Biology students and Adventurous Activities of all ages. The Field Studies Council strives to invest in training and development which will create the environment for volunteers to maximise their potential in taking FSC forward.
	Looking after our customers is of paramount importance and the Office, Kitchen, Household and Education teams all play their part in ensuring we offer outstanding customer service. The management of the Centre is inclusive, with everyone being expected to contribute and having the opportunity to develop their skills and experience.
