Date: 09/08/2021

Hazard: Catching and transmission of Covid-19 by employees at work or visitors or customers whilst at our locations.

Persons at Risk

FSC Employees; Customers;
Visitors;

FSC is proud of its long history of safe, enjoyable educational visits. The enthusiasm, and commitment of our employees in working adhering to our systems and procedures is just one way that our employees ensure a positive experience for our customers.

FSC is passionate about what we do. We prioritise the health and safety of all FSC's visitors and aim to function in a safe and secure manner so that visitors can focus on fully immersing themselves into the environment and their chosen activity. With over 75 years of experience we have been able to establish effective policies in all areas where sensible care and attention is required, and these policies are reviewed continuously.

Risk-Benefit Approach

FSC support the risk-benefit approach to risk assessment for our outdoor activities that has been adopted by both HSE and RoSPA. The benefit of taking acceptable intellectual and physical risks can be seen in the growth and development of young people. FSC is committed to the delivery of High Quality Outdoor Learning and we appreciate and assess the risks associated with delivering over 3 million learner hours of outdoor learning every year. A detailed risk assessment for activities and teaching sites is undertaken which forms the basis of a dynamic approach to assessment by trained employees whilst in the field.

FSC cannot remove all risk so adopts control measures to mitigate risks to an acceptable level. Remaining risk is weighed against the academic and personal benefit of undertaking the activity whether it be a formal education programme, adventurous activity or informal learning and outdoor play. FSC support the OEAP National Guidance for the management of Outdoor Learning and have aligned our internal processes and procedures to be consistent with this where applicable.

Benefits of being and learning outside.

Being outside:	Living close to Nature and spending time outside has significant and wide ranging health benefits (UEA, 06/07/2018): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reducing the risk of some diseases. • Reducing stress. • Benefits to the immune system. There is increasing evidence that access to greenspaces really matters for our health (PHE, March 2020)
Covid-19 / Coronavirus	With the risk of coronavirus there are benefits of being outside which have been identified (BMC, 18/05/2020), (iNews 11/05/2020): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The risk of transmission is reportedly lower (natural ventilation). • Social distancing is easier to achieve. • The virus survives for shorter periods of time outside the body in strong sunlight, partly due to exposure to UV.
Social isolation and anxiety	Social isolation during covid-19 and anxiety when returning to work have been identified as issues. Working in a team in an outdoor setting is a benefit.
Outdoor Learning:	Well planned, facilitated opportunities for outdoor learning, in the real world, away from the classroom help improve our knowledge, understanding, health and wellbeing. The benefits of outdoor learning include (but are not limited to) (OEAP NG, 11/11/2014): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Real world learning. • Enhancing social and emotional intelligence (including greater awareness of their and others needs) • Increased sense of personal responsibility. • Involvement in activities which support academic and vocational learning with improved achievement and attainment. • Possibilities for genuine team working, including enhanced communication skills • Improved appreciation, knowledge, awareness and understanding of communities, environments and sustainability • The development of physical skills and a fit and healthy lifestyle. • Increased risk management skills through opportunities for involvement in practical risk-benefit assessments ('what do we want to do and what do we need to do to make it safe enough?').

Contracting or transmission of virus in an emergency situation	Employee, Customer Visitor	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Guidance is that in an emergency e.g. first aid people should provide assistance as they would usually do, practicing good hygiene after. In the event of an evacuation e.g. fire, those involved should follow social distancing, as reasonably practicable. First Aiders should remind themselves of the up to date guidance on CPR and first aid. Trained employees will provide first aid treatment if required and through our rota system FSC will ensure enough employees are available to provide first aid cover (in line with our First Aid OCoP). If a participant on a group visit has covid symptoms, the group leader would be expected to take the lead in their care. FSC do not have employees that are trained in intimate care, this would remain the responsibility of the Customer who should provide appropriate PPE. 	Communicate with first aiders	Managers First Aiders Fire Wardens
Increased risk of infection and complication for employees who are in high risk groups.	Employees	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Staff will have a return to the workplace discussion prior to returning to the workplace, to identify those who are vulnerable or at risk, concerned by their personal circumstances, or who require reasonable adjustments. Any existing individual employee risk assessments (to include those with disabilities, new / expectant mothers etc) must be reviewed in light of the covid-secure information, and we work with that employee to ensure they are not further compromised.
