Field Studies Council has systems and processes in place to ensure it is compliant with the Data Protection Act (2018), incorporating the General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR 2016) and the Electronic Communications and Privacy Regulations (ECPR 2019).

These documents set out our Data Protection Policy and provide information about our Data-Processing and Privacy commitments. It is important to stress that we will never sell your personal data, and only share information with our service providers who support our day to day operations as a supplier of products and

Due to the nature of the work carried out and services provided by Field Studies Council on behalf of its customers both on-site at its Centres and off-site at field locations, it is necessary that we obtain key personal information about course attendees for operational and health & safety reasons.

Because the primary flow of personal data is from group Booker/organiser to service provider, Field Studies Council therefore falls within the definition of 'data processor' on behalf of you as 'data controller' to personal information that you as the customer/group organiser/group agent supply to Field Studies Council to enable fulfilment of the booking. To satisfy your obligation as 'data controller' it is recommended that you download, complete, and keep on record a copy of the form that sets out Field Studies Council's data protection responsibilities as data processor. This Data Compliance Agreement form can be accessed from the link above.
